Courses– Developed for adult learners

- Students of all ages in the class.
- Class discussions generally NOT censored.
- Coursework NOT modified for age/maturity.

Parents/Guardians

- Empower the student to become independent. The student is now a college student.
- Encourage the student to manage their academic issues. The student should contact the professor. The syllabus will list the professor's office hours and preferred contact information.
  - College professors do not contact the Early College office or high school counselor to advise of attendance issues or poor grades
- Encourage the student to contact the Early College office and other SCF offices.
- SCF courses are not modified for age/maturity. Class discussions are not censored.
- The student will need to manage their time and balance school and extra curricular activities.

Parents/Guardians

- Help your student set aside 2 hours for every 1 hour in class.
- Help your student pay attention to deadlines – they are important!
  - *All paperwork and course registration must be completed by the published deadline each semester.
- Encourage your students to get involved on campus. Student Life
- Students who receive a W, D or F in a course will not be allowed to enroll in future dual enrollment courses for one semester.
- Grades are important! Students who receive withdrawals and/or a failing grade may have difficulty in meeting future admission requirements at colleges and universities including financial aid and scholarship opportunities.

Early College Guidebook **please read for information about the program and SCF.

The Early College Guidebook and Early College presentation includes information regarding program eligibility, college policies, guidelines standards and responsibilities. Students are expected to be familiar and comply with its contents. While the guidebook and presentation provide an overall review of general Early College policies and guidelines, it is not intended to be inclusive or all-encompassing in that not all situations are foreseeable. The college reserves the right to change, add or delete any statement in this guidebook.

- Due to the high volume, our office is not accepting walk-ins. Email is the best way to communicate with the Early College office.
- Appointments are required and the Early College student must be present.
