

DIGITAL COURSE MATERIALS

Digital Course Materials have many varieties. Some are just the ebook version of the textbook, some are the ebook w/courseware (courseware is interactive software for assignments, quizzes, etc.), and some are subscriptions. Your Instructor will review courseware and subscriptions with you in class. Ebook versions are a cost-effective option and deliver the same content as the physical text.

There are 2 delivery types of Digital Course Materials:

1. Digitally Delivered Access Codes

- a. Digitally Delivered Access Codes are delivered within your online order fulfillment email or at the bottom of your in-store purchase receipt. (Please refer to your school's dual enrollment course materials process to see which you fall under)

If you purchased on efollett, you will receive an email with your code.

If you purchased in the store, your access code will be printed at the bottom of your sales receipt.

- b. Online orders containing digitally delivered codes will appear to have "buy digital" or "rent digital" in the order details. Scroll to the bottom to find the above image/access.
- c. Once digital materials are accessed, they aren't returnable. They are also not returnable once you've reached 14 days from order fulfillment. Please use this access in class once you are staying in the course and your instructor has walked you through the requirements.

2. Access Code Cards

- a. Other digital materials will be delivered via an access code card. These are sealed cards with an enclosed code to be revealed by either a scratch OR peel method. Please be careful to read the instructions on the card as they are not replaceable.
- b. Access Code Cards ordered via the website will receive a "ready for pickup" email from the SCF Store. They will appear to have a "Buy New" in the order details. You will then go with your photo ID to the campus store listed in your order (Bradenton or Venice) to pick up the order.
- c. Once an access code card is opened it's not returnable.
